Special Notice and Proposition

It is very important that purchasers or money lenders shall know just the condition of the titles to lands they are about to buy or take as security for loans. While I shall always aim to be certain as to the title and condition of all property handled by me, or to give plain and reliable statements concerning the same, any party dealing with me or my clients may employ the services of their own attorneys to test the accuracy of statements given them concerning the titles to lands, and if such attorneys should find that our statements are unfair and prejudicial to them, we will pay the examination fee.

I sell only on per centage and will in all instances willingly leave purchasers to figure with the real owners of the land and obtain just as fair a bargain as they can get, it is neither fair to the agent, the owner or the purchaser to require the agent to get his commission by selling the land above a certain price, to take all he can get over that price for his services. Any property which I am will-
